

CYBAR

Acceptable use of gaming equipment

The following document sets an agreement between any user and CYBAR. The document consists of some rules and regulations, which any user needs to be aware of, and understand, prior to using the gaming equipment. By implementing these restrictions, the CYBAR does not intend to make the establishment less entertaining. On the contrary, the purpose of this policy is to ensure that CYBAR remains a pleasant and fun environment.

Gaming equipment: any gear that is part of the gaming experience, and is a property of CYBAR. This includes not only the PCs, but also the monitors, keyboards, mice, headphones, remote controls, game consoles, joysticks, pads, chairs, desks, other.

1. Users log in only with their personal username and RFID chip. It is strictly forbidden to use the log-in information of someone else. It is mandatory that you log out from the system when you are about to free the gaming equipment. CYBAR is not to be held responsible for any abuses.
2. Any stored information is not considered confidential. It can be accessed and checked any time.
3. Surf safe – stay away from web pages with strange and unusual URLs, pornographic or illegal content. This is also valid for web pages with content that is regarded as gore, abusing, discriminating, violent and obscene. You can do that freely at your home.
4. Do not introduce malicious programs, such as: Trojan horses, viruses, worms, e-mail bombing and spamming robots, other.
5. Just do not open attachments from unknown and suspicious senders.
6. Do not violate intellectual property rights, and do not use CYBAR's network for conducting illegal activities.
7. Do not bring, or eat, food around the equipment. Only drinks are allowed.
8. Do not attach, detach, or replace any of the set equipment. Ask the bartender for assistance, when needed.
9. Do not play ignorant. If you are not sure about doing something, better ask the bartender, or simply do not do it.
10. BIG BROTHER IS WATCHING YOU – so, please stay sane and reasonable.
